Bloem Show shearing demonstrations at schools explain where jerseys and scarfs come from

It's time for Bloem Show from 26 April to 5 May in Bloemfontein. Along with the fun, comes the opportunity to learn.

Bloem Show provides a number of opportunities for children to learn about the environment, agriculture, and where things like food and clothes come from.

The popular shearing demonstrations will once again be presented at five schools in Bloemfontein. Learn more about how a sheep is sheared; how the wool is spun and then knitted to make jerseys and scarves, which keep us warm during the winter.

Bloem Show, in conjunction with the NWGA, will conduct five sheep shearing demonstrations at schools in Bloemfontein.

28 February 2018	Bultfontein primary and secondary school
1 March 2018	Pres Brand primary school
2 March 2018	Willem Postma primary school
5 March 2018	Bloemfontein primary school
6 March 2018	Sand du Plessis primary school

The demonstrations mainly involve the shearing of sheep, first by hand and then with a machine. Thereafter the two types of shearing methods compete against one another. General information are given to the children and the process of how the wool is spun and knitted is explained.

The spinning and knitting ladies do the demonstrations voluntary and the children are normally amazed by their skill and creativity. The children also get the opportunity to touch the wool and ask questions.

The demonstration will be held on a shearing platform and presented by Mr. Izak Kloppers from the National Wool Growers Association. NWGA is involved in the training of sheep-shearers in South Africa.

Shearers that will feature during the demonstrations are of the best in the country.

The national sheep shearing and wool handling competition will be hosted during the Bloem Show on 27 & 28 April 2018.

It is a privilege for Bloem Show to support and educate the community in such a way.
